

November 2, 2022

Dear Brother Priests, Deacons, DREs, Teachers, and Catechists,

National Vocation Awareness Week will soon be upon us, running from November 6-12th, 2022. As has been offered in the past, the Vocations Office provides free access to online lesson plans on vocations for students of all grade levels. These lessons plans are age-appropriate, from Kindergarten through 12th grade, and can be used electronically via computers, or printed for students' use in class. For your own reference, these lesson plans can be viewed at www.VocationLessons.com. Once you are on the homepage, please enter one of the following access codes in the upper right-hand box:

The Student Access Code is ThinkingofVocations

The Teacher Access Code is SCvocations

The differing access code allows a teacher to see the student version and also receive lesson plan tips and explanations. Hopefully our teachers and catechists can make use of these lessons during National Vocation Awareness Week and throughout the entire academic year. The codes must be typed as you see them with proper large or small case letters.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns. I thank you in advance for your support. Let's all share the joy of our priestly ministry as we celebrate again National Vocations Awareness Week.

Sincerely,
